

TAFT DIFFERS WITH LANDS CONVENTION

Flatly Disagrees With Sentiment of That Organization in Regard to Leasing of Public Lands, in Speech Defending Federal Control—Admits Former Grabbing of Resources by Monopolies and Declares Work of Present and Future Is to Prevent Repetitions of Such Tactics

DENVER, Oct. 3.—When President Taft was taken for a two hours' automobile ride this afternoon and was hurried along at a speed varying from 35 to 40 miles an hour, it was but an incident of one of the most strenuous days he has spent since leaving Beverly, more than two weeks ago. The president's car hosts kept him on the go from early morning until late tonight, when he left for Cheyenne.

Mr. Taft made two important speeches during the day, the first to a public lands convention, and the second to the members of the Republican organization, including the state central committee and various county committees. The president talked politics in the Republican party, as he interpreted it.

Defends Federal Control.
In his speech to the public lands convention here today President Taft flatly disagreed with the sentiment of that organization in regard to leasing public lands by the federal government expressed in resolutions adopted yesterday. The president declared that the west needed capital to develop its public lands and said at only through a federal leasing system could such capital be induced to come west.

The president spoke in the auditorium, built to hold more than 11,000 persons and few seats were vacant. In spite of his disagreement with the sentiment of the convention, the president was well received. When he made some of his points against a proposal of the convention, that public lands be disposed of to individuals, or else placed under the care of the separate states, the crowd applauded vigorously and when he concluded the cheering was long and loud.

The president said that he knew was in a peculiar position since the convention had already reached its decision with respect to public lands. "I know," said Mr. Taft, "how irritating it is to have somebody else lay down rules for your moral uplift, but I've got to stand a great deal in order to make progress. I will end as I began. I am not in agreement with your verdict."

Give Delegates Some Leeway.
President Taft pleaded for concessions upon the part of the convention and suggested that when men were sent to Washington to argue with congressional committees about matters affecting the public lands and the policy of conservation they should not be tied with strings so they could have leeway.

The president said that the discussion of conservation, at least east of the Missouri river, had not reached a

Attack on Initiative and Referendum Is Now Before Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The task of emptying to put an end to all initiative and referendum legislation in this country began today in the supreme court of the United States. Counsel of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company filed a brief of attacking a taxing law of Oregon because it was enacted under the initiative clause of the state constitution, which is alleged to be in violation of the federal constitution.

It is urged that the failure of the company to have a hearing before the taxing of its taxes before the initiative, placed the company at a disadvantage after being heard by the legislature. In this way it was claimed that equal protection of the law was denied.

The initiative amendment and the Oregon tax were denounced as "violative of the right of each state to representation in a form of government, which was guaranteed by the federal constitution."

It was contended that in legislative assemblies the minority seldom, if ever, is able to moderate the wishes of the majority, however powerful, but that government by direct legislation is government by brute force.

Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey was quoted as saying that "government must have its lawmaking power, as it can no more make law through its voters than it can make law through its newspapers."

ENTER GENERAL DENIAL

Little Headway With Witnesses in Missouri's Ouster Suit Against Alleged Lumber Trust

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—The silent man and noncommittal of the lumber interests was revealed in the hearing of the state's ouster suit against the alleged lumber trust here today, when S. H. Fullerton of St. Louis entered a general denial to every question asked him by Assistant Attorney General Atkinson, who is conducting the hearing.

Fullerton denied he was present at a meeting of the lumber interests at the world's fair here, when it was decided to curtail the output of the lumber mills. When shown a photograph taken at the time of the meeting in which he had a seat in the front row, the witness admitted that he might have been there.

Alleged market reports which the state classifies as price lists of the lumber associations were put in the record despite the fact that they were not identified by George E. Smith, secretary of the Yellow Pine Manufacturers association.

Frank M. Strickland, who printed the price lists, had identified them and testified that Smith had furnished the figures to him three days before the lists were printed.

REPORT SEA DISASTERS

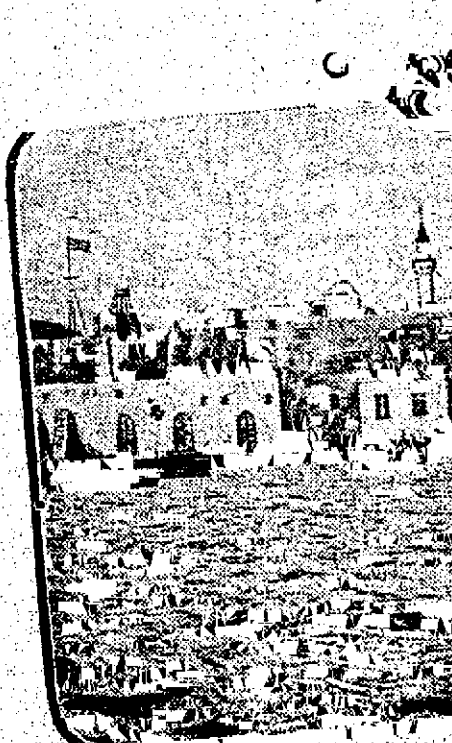

Incoming Steamers Tell of Worst Storm North Sea Has Known in Several Decades

HAMBURG, Oct. 3.—Incoming steamers report having encountered in the North sea the worst storm they have experienced in several decades. Several wrecked vessels were passed, the crews of which presumably were drowned.

Shipping disasters also are reported from the Baltic. An unidentified German sailing ship went down in full view of those on board the Ferdinand as did a lifeboat sent out from the Ferdinand to lend aid to the distressed vessels.

CLUB WOMEN OF STATE FOR EIGHT-HOUR LAW

DENVER, Oct. 3.—A campaign to secure the passage of an eight-hour law for women will be launched at once if the recommendation of the executive committee is approved by the convention of the Colorado State Federation of Women's clubs which opened here tonight. This was the chief subject before the executive committee at its meeting today and the proposal will be taken to the floor of convention with the unanimous endorsement of that body. Delegates from all parts of the state are in Denver for the general business sessions which will begin tomorrow.

"NO WAR WITH AMERICA WHILE I AM IN OFFICE"

Japanese Quotes Prime Minister of His Country in Address at Colorado College Chapel

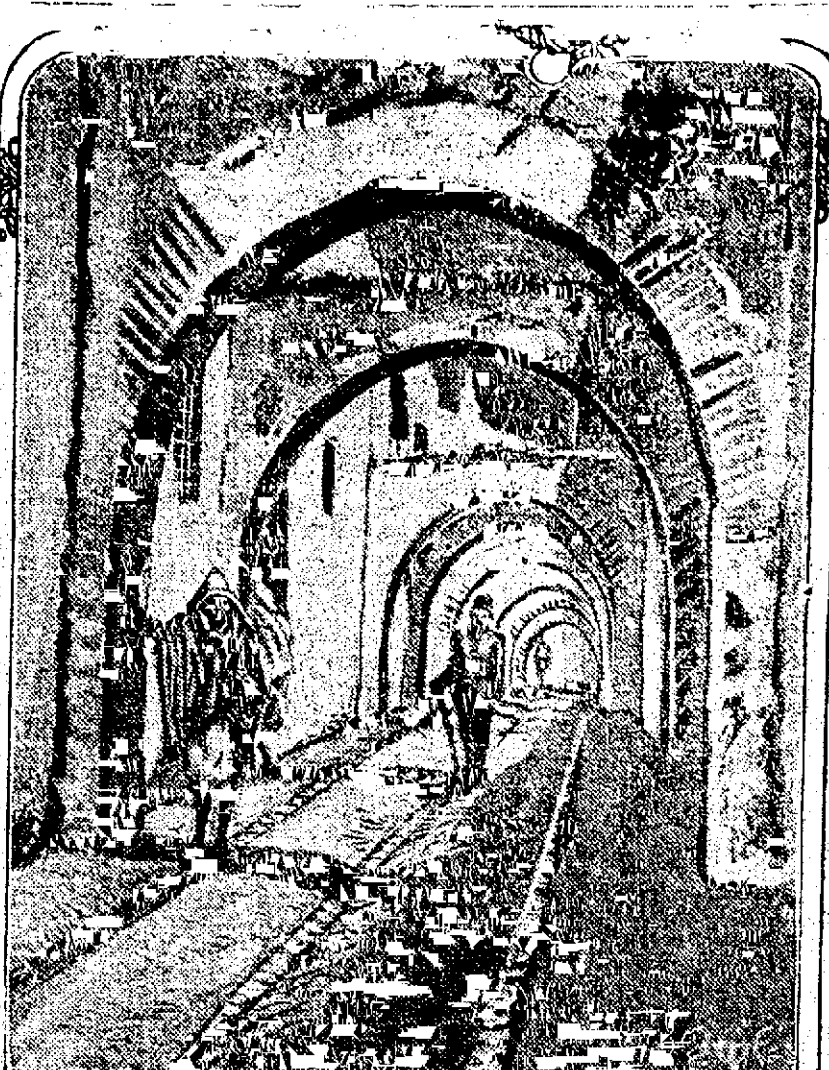

Dr. Inazo Nitobe gave a most interesting address in the Colorado chapel yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, expressing to American students the viewpoint of a Japanese concerning the peace movement, and the possibility and impossibility of war between Japan and the United States. He said that rumors of war came from three sources. First, they were circulated by nations who would make material gain by war between Japan and the United States; secondly, they were circulated by large business interests anxious for government contracts for the building of war vessels and the furnishing of war supplies; thirdly, they were circulated by individuals who are associated with the press and who receive liberal rewards for a telegram from abroad containing sensational news.

He quoted the prime minister of Japan, Prince Katsura, as saying that he had been familiar with war from his youth up, both as a warrior and as a statesman. This official said: "I know war in all its phases to be a horror; not only a horror on the battlefield, but in its effects upon the temper and morals of the people. People who talk a great deal about war do not know what war is."

Few Here Know What War Is.
Few people in America know what war is. They think of it as simply romantic and interesting, but I have passed through all the stages, and know its horrors. I can say that, while I hold my place in Japan, this country and the United States shall never engage in war, nor will Japan engage in war with any nation, unless driven to it by suffering which is beyond endurance; and, as to war between Japan and America, as long as America does not provoke us, there is no ground for the breaking of the long bond of friendship which has prevailed between these two nations. Japan is at heart pacific and is peacefully inclined toward all the rest of the world, and especially toward America. The people of Japan are following President Taft's endeavor to bring about international peace, by means of arbitration treaties with the greatest interest, and if these treaties between the United States and England can be carried through, and Japan could likewise enter into similar treaties, I feel sure that no great war could occur for very many years to come."

Wishes Proposal for Enlarging Water System Be Submitted in Writing

"I feel confident that our talk with President Taft will result in the realization of our hopes to secure additional land for water purposes."

This is the way D. N. Helzer feels as a result of his visit to Denver yesterday. He was one of the committee, headed by H. C. Hall, and including Mayor Avery, E. E. Nichols and Prof. William Strickland, that was sent from this city to confer with President Taft in regard to the plans for obtaining more land in the mountains, so that the city could protect and improve its present water supply.

The committee met President Taft at 12:15 o'clock and was closed with him 25 minutes at the Brown Palace hotel. Former Mayor Hall did the talking.

DEFEAT FOR FRANK GOULD

Loss Fight to Secure Representation on Directorate St. Louis Southwestern Railway

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—Despite the announcement at noon today that Frank Gould had won in his fight for representation in the directorate of the St. Louis Southwestern railway, when the balloting was finished this afternoon, it was found that the old directorate had been reelected and the belligerent member of the Gould family had been ousted and defeated.

R. Lancaster Williams, who was elected a director of the Missouri Pacific early last summer and whom Frank Gould sought to place in a similar position on the St. Louis southwestern, following today's meeting said:

"In checking our list with that held by the management we find that there are a number of duplicates or reversions on both sides. Under these conditions I am convinced that to insist upon a contest at this time would be likely to lead to controversy and possibly to litigation."

VICE PRESIDENCY STILL IN DOUBT IN MEXICO

Leaders Various Parties Take Unusual Steps to Secure a Victory

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 3.—Worried by inability to ascertain who was elected vice president, last Sunday, members of the central committee of the various parties have started a new campaign for votes in the electoral college, on October 15. Hundreds of telegrams were sent today to party chiefs urging them to send in results of the election to give a working basis for this brief and somewhat irregular campaign.

Though satisfied at the peaceable manner in which the election was held, party leaders reluctantly admitted that the failure to receive returns shows lack of organization.

At the headquarters of the Progressive party it was admitted that not more than 25 per cent of the returns, and these lacking in detail, had been received. Similar conditions prevailed at the headquarters of the Catholic party and of the Vasquistas. No one admits defeat, and the conviction is growing that no one will receive a majority in the electoral college, and that the choice for vice president will devolve upon the chamber of deputies.

In a last effort to forestall this, however, leaders are flooding the 20,000-electors with arguments in favor of their respective candidates, notwithstanding the electors are presumed to vote in accordance with the wishes of those who named them.

WILL ASK FOR A SPECIAL PROSECUTOR IN MURDER CASE

DENVER, Oct. 3.—District Attorney Willis V. Elliott will ask that a special prosecutor be appointed to try Mrs. Gertrude Gibson Patterson, charged with murdering her husband, Charles A. Patterson. This decision was reached at a conference with his assistants today, and the request will be presented to the court tomorrow, when it is expected a direct information will be filed against Mrs. Patterson.

ENGINEER KILLED IN A SANTA FE WRECK

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 3.—Eastbound Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe passenger train No. 10 was derailed on a curve near Laguna, N. M., 66 miles west of here, today. Engineer James Engleheart was killed and Fireman Charles Quinn was probably fatally injured. The entire train, except the Pullmans, left the rails. None of the passengers was injured. The wreck delayed traffic 12 hours. Soft track is believed to have caused the accident.

Several Persons Reported Killed or Wounded—Also Fight at Durant, Miss.

Dr. Dunlap, Who Also Opposed Chief Chemist, Off on an Extended Vacation

McCOMB CITY, Miss., Oct. 3.—In a sudden explosion, said to be dynamite, occurred in the railroad yards at 1:30 o'clock this morning, in the vicinity of which 100 or more strike breakers are quartered. The explosion was followed by several shots.

It is not known whether any casualties resulted. JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 3.—In a fight in the freight yards of the Illinois Central at McComb City between strikers and strikebreakers today, several persons were reported to have been killed and others wounded. Governor Noel ordered out the Third regiment, Mississippi National guard, at 7:30 o'clock tonight and two military companies are now hurrying to the scene.

Details of the fight are difficult to secure. The special train bearing the strikebreakers continued on its journey to New Orleans, where it is reported none was killed.

Citizens of Magnolia say when the train passed through there at full speed every coach window was broken and no one was visible at the opening, the strikebreakers lying prone on the floor to keep from being fired on.

Several hundred shots were exchanged and among the strikers there were numerous bruised and broken heads. Many of the wounded were carried to the headquarters of the strikers and physicians summoned. It has been impossible to learn the exact extent of their injuries, but it is reported that several will die. The fight at McComb City occurred at the freight shed about half a mile south of the depot, closely following the first encounter of the afternoon in which one man was seriously wounded.

Battle on 20 Minutes.
The train bearing the strikebreakers had pulled down to the freight shed and was standing on a side track. More than 100 strikers assembled, words were exchanged and it is claimed a strikebreaker hurled a brick among the strikers.

Immediately a fusillade of shots followed. The strikers opened fire on the coach windows, at which the heads of the strikebreakers could be seen. Several fell after the first volley. The occupants of the coaches returned the fire through the windows, keeping well scattered. Occasionally when a strikebreaker, bolder than the rest, raised his head above the danger line, he was greeted with a shower of bullets and other missiles.

The fight raged fully 20 minutes. Finally the engineer of the train made a dash for his locomotive, managed to get aboard while the bullets were flying thick about his head, opened the throttle and pulled out at full speed.

Earlier in the day, one man was fatally injured and several others severely hurt in a pitched battle between three carloads of strikebreakers and a mob at McComb City. Pistols were fired, stones hurled and clubs wielded on both sides.

E. H. Montgomery, a striker, sustained a fractured skull and it is thought he will die.

DURANT, Miss., Oct. 3.—Several persons were injured today in a clash between citizens of Durant and strikebreakers destined for points south of Jackson on the Illinois Central railroad. Preceding the train came a telephone

ITALIAN FLAG REPORTED FLYING OVER TRIPOLI; TURKISH TRANSPORTS AND SOLDIERS CAPTURED

The last word from Tripoli comes from Vice Admiral Faravelli, who notified the Italian government that he had given the Turkish commander until noon Tuesday to surrender. The dispatch reads:

"In answer to a summons for the surrender of the city, made yesterday, the Turkish commander asked for delay and was granted until noon today."

A special edition of the Rome Tribuna published the statement that the Italian cruisers entered the harbor of Tripoli Tuesday afternoon, bombarded the forts and the governor's castle, made a landing and hoisted the Italian flag.

The important naval capture of the war so far is that of the Turkish transport Sabah, with a Turkish general, a large consignment of troops and much ammunition aboard.

Cordis reports that the duke of the Abruzzi, in command of a flotilla fleet, off Preveza, threatens bombardment of that place. The Portes appeal to the powers has been answered by the powers that they

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—In a sudden succession of orders, an initial move toward the reorganization of the department of agriculture, Solicitor George F. McCabe, today was notified from the pure food and drug board Associate Chemist F. L. Dunlap, closely identified with McCabe, was allowed leave of absence until the president's return and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief chemist, was left apparently in supreme command of the board.

Dr. R. E. Doolittle of New York was temporarily appointed to the board to succeed McCabe. These changes were announced by Secretary Wilson today following a conference with Dr. Wiley who has been on a long vacation. They were deemed inevitable in view of the official and personal antagonism which was disclosed last summer and in view of Dr. Wiley's exoneration by President Taft after Attorney General Wickersham, with views aligned with those of Secretary Wilson and Solicitor McCabe, had recommended his dismissal.

The pure food and drug board is the agency that passes upon many important cases arising under the enforcement of the pure food law. Dr. Wiley on the one hand and Solicitor McCabe and Dr. Dunlap on the other were the members of the board.

Dr. Wiley declared that he was usually outvoted and made several sensational statements in the investigation of the controversy. Smarting under the frequent overruling of his views wherein he held food products deleterious to health, he told a congressional committee that he regarded his assistant, Dr. Dunlap, as his superior officer.

Resignation Voluntary.
Secretary Wilson's brief announcement of the charges stated that Solicitor McCabe voluntarily resigned and that his resignation had been accepted.

Dr. Dunlap was acting chairman of the board when Dr. Wiley was absent from Washington. Whether Dr. Dunlap will return to his duties was not stated. His temporary withdrawal was attributed officially to the fact that he is to take the customary four weeks vacation; but Secretary Wilson said Dr. Dunlap would not come back until after President Taft had returned to Washington.

In place of Solicitor McCabe to serve with Dr. Wiley on the board, Secretary Wilson appointed Dr. Doolittle, long a member of the bureau of chemistry force, and now head of that bureau's subsection in New York. Dr. Wiley and Dr. Doolittle will constitute the majority of the board for the immediate future, the latter's appointment being necessary to give the board's actions legal effect.

The reasons for Solicitor McCabe's resignation were not announced. Secretary Wilson said McCabe's duties as solicitor remained unchanged and under the general provisions of the law he will continue to exercise an important control over the enforcement of the pure food law.

There will be no permanent change in the department's methods of enforcing the pure food law, until President Taft has had an opportunity to take up the matter in Washington, said Secretary Wilson. "The appointment of Dr. Doolittle will simply continue the board's operations as at present up to the time when President Taft returns."

cannot offer mediation until a basis of settlement is suggested on the line of the Italian demands. Late reports from Constantinople says a new cabinet has been nominated, and that it will continue the policy looking to mediation.

The Turkish battleships and a cruiser have been sent to reinforce the squadron in the Dardanelles. Turkey, it is said, has troops aboard two Russian steamers, now held up at Suez. This tends to confirm the Vienna report that Turkey has ordered the Yemen expeditionary force to occupy the coast of the Italian colony of Eritrea, with the support of a squadron of warships.

Lands Prisoners in Italy.
TARANTO, Italy, Oct. 3.—The Italian armored cruiser Marcel Polo brought here today the Turkish transport Sabah, which she had captured. Great excitement prevailed during the disembarkation of the prisoners.

LEFT MONEY TO GIRL HE SHOT, IF SHE RECOVERED

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Oct. 3.—Erskine S. Walker, who shot and mortally wounded his sweetheart, Miss Magdeline Kemp, 16 years old, and then killed himself, left a will in which he bequeathed $10,000 to the girl in case she recovered and his entire estate valued at $1,000 in the event she enters a convent and never marries.

It has developed that the tragedy was brought on by the return to Walker by Miss Kemp of a diamond engagement ring, she having decided that she was too young to marry.

IS SURE INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CO. ALL RIGHT

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—President Cyrus H. McCormick of the International Harvester company, on his arrival from Europe, aboard the Kronprinz Wilhelm, today amplified his wireless statement regarding the status of his company under the federal laws, by declaring his belief that some way would be found to meet the requirements of the government, "without serious consequences to the stockholders."

He said the company had requested a thorough investigation from the bureau of corporations seven years ago and that four years ago such an investigation was begun for which full access to offices and records had been given.

"It is the test, the International Harvester company has nothing to fear from any investigation or suit," he said.

PLAN BIG CEMENT MERGER

Plants in Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa and Other States May Be in One Corporation

BONNER SPRINGS, Kan., Oct. 3.—A plan to merge all the cement manufacturing plants in Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Iowa, and other states was proposed today by the directors of the Bonner Brand Portland Cement company of this city, by Henry McGrew, general manager of the company.

The plan is to merge all the plants, paying each individual company 50 per cent in stock and 50 per cent in bonds of the new corporation.

A committee has been appointed to make an appraisal of the different plants and it is understood that many owners have agreed to the merger proposal.

ALASKA STEAMER ASHORE

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 3.—The Alaska Steamship company's wooden freight steamer Edith is ashore on Lovel island, Summer strait, not far from Wrangell, Alaska. The Edith is festing on soft sand and her owners believe they will be able to save her. Messages received late today from Captain James Daniels, master of the Edith, say the freighter struck at 11 o'clock last night during a heavy fog. The Edith was enroute from Skagway and had cargo consisting of 60,000 cases of salmon, valued at $250,000.

The Alaskan liner Alameda which is en route from Valdez to Seattle has been notified to go to the aid of the Edith and scows have been sent from Wrangell to take off part of the cargo. It is believed the vessel is not in great danger.

The Edith is a steel ship of 2,600 tons gross register. She was built at Sunderland, England in 1892 and carries a crew of 31 officers and men.

KNOWN DEAD NOW 38

AUSTIN, Pa., Oct. 3.—With six bodies recovered from the flood wreckage here today, the face of another and a skull badly charred, the total number of known dead in the catastrophe of last Saturday now stands at 38.

With the almost hourly revision of the list of missing the remaining number is approximately only 75. This is given out officially as about 40 and the feeling is expressed tonight that several will never be found.

Several storekeepers today began to display their wares.

The regular water supply has been reestablished.

Effective organized relief is well under way and help is being offered from many communities in the state. Commissioner Dixon of the state health department says that money, men and food supplies are in great demand.

Philadelphia sent word that $5,000 has been raised and was on the way. Dubois, Pa., had 150 volunteers and 200 laborers that would be in this morning, while Weathers, Pa., had raised $2,000 in a few hours and had dispatched the cash in an automobile.

The cash is needed largely in transporting the afflicted to friends and relatives in other parts of the country. More laborers on the state payrolls have been ordered in this morning. They will bring their supplies with them.

It was definitely learned today that Costello does not need aid. He is able to care for any in distress, having several warehouses of food supplies and all the money needed. Some clothing for women and children will be required.

Great floods have been made into the mass of tangled debris. Beneath one building three bodies were found. They were those of a mother, an infant and a child about 3 years old. All were terribly mutilated.

With daylight further floods on the wreckage were started and indications are today that by the end of the week the railroad will be opened through to Costello, enabling the carting away of useless wreckage.

No reports of any illness prevailing because of privations suffered, have been made to the relief headquarters.

The state constabulary is effectively policing the section and through the vigilance of this constabulary, eight persons for petty thieving have been made, the deceased being committed to the county jail at Coudersport for trial.

Eighty laborers reached Austin during the night and 200 more are expected to reach Austin this afternoon swelling the total laboring force to 300 men. Health Commissioner Dixon said:

"We expect to have the ruins cleared by tomorrow night. Under no circumstances will we burn the debris until the last body there has been recovered. What we need most is food. Please urge the public to send foodstuffs. Two carloads came in this morning but it will last only today and our reserve is dwindling. We have word from our representatives in Costello that the situation there has improved. We expect to send 250 men to aid in the work there today."

CITES STEEL CORPORATION IN RECEIVER PETITION

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 3.—In the superior court today the Western Steel corporation, which owns a large steel plant at Ironside, was cited to show cause on October 6 why a receiver should not be appointed. This order was issued on the petition of a scrap dealer whose claim is $400 and who alleges that the corporation owes large sums of money which it is unable to pay.

IDAHO BANKERS INDICTED

WALLACE, Ida., Oct. 3.—John H. Nordquist, Stanley Easton and G. Scott Anderson, all former directors of the State Bank of Commerce at this place, were indicted tonight, charged with having made false reports of the financial condition of the institution and having received deposits after they knew the bank was insolvent.

YOUR STOMACH FEELS FINE IN FIVE MINUTES

Take a Little Diapiesin Now and Your Stomach Will Feel Fine Five Minutes Later.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of Stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapiesin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy stomach five minutes after. Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula, plainly printed on these 50-cent packages of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will readily see why it makes indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn and other distress go in five minutes, and relieves at once such miseries as Belching of Gas, Eructations of Sour, Undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation and other Stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from Indigestion and Dyspepsia, or an out-of-order stomach with the common, every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe there is a case of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach or Cancer.

This, no doubt, is a certain mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest, instead, it ferments, and turns to acid, Gas and Stomach poison, which putrefies in the digestive tract and intestines, and besides, poisons the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapiesin.

Two Held for Alleged Smuggling of Grain From Canada to U.S.

MINOT, N. D., Oct. 3.—In the arrest at Norma near here today of Walter Jackson, wheat buyer for a grain company, and of A. J. Magnin, a farmer, by United States Customs Agent Foukles, federal officers believe they have unearthed an extensive scheme of grain smuggling from the fields of Canada to the flour mills at Minneapolis. Confessions, it is understood, are in the possession of Agent Foukles.

It is alleged the Canadian smugglers brought the grain across the border at night, disposing of it to American farmers, who in turn took the grain to the elevators near the border.

The alleged smuggling operations were unearched, it is said, while federal officers were searching the border for the lost painting, "Mona Lisa."

Details Received of Fighting in Oporto

LISBON, (via Frontier), Oct. 3.—There was street fighting in Oporto on Saturday, between monarchists and Republican troops. Many persons were killed.

Persons arriving at the capital from Oporto describe the scene in that city Saturday morning as terrible during the brief time that it lasted. Just before dawn the Republican troops surprised and arrested several groups of monarchists, the number aggregating more than 100. Others, having been warned, made their escape.

A large body of monarchists gathered in a public building, which they barricaded, and from the windows and roof fired on the troops with automatic pistols. Other monarchists in different quarters of the city, who had not been apprised of the raids by the troops and police, hearing the firing, accepted it as a signal for the monarchist uprising. They fled blindly in pairs and in parties of three or more, ran to the places in the city which they had been instructed to occupy at the critical moment. Every man was armed with a revolver and they began firing on the troops from the side streets. Among them were several priests who fought courageously and inspired the others.

Early in the fight fresh troops arrived and a troop of cavalry charged up and down the streets, firing their pistols and slashing with their sabres. Some houses were set on fire. Eventually the monarchists who survived were arrested or fled and the soldiers restored order. The arrests continue. There is no reliable estimate of the number killed and wounded. The monarchists appear to have been but loosely organized. The uprising had been set for Saturday night and was unwisely attempted in the morning when the leaders saw the conspiracy had been discovered and that their arrest was imminent.

Disorders at other places have been suppressed. Apparently the government is secure in its military measures.

CHICAGO COUPLE ARRESTED ON REQUEST IDAHO SHERIFF

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Louis A. Ruehl, son of the founder of one of Chicago's largest brewing concerns, and his wife, Augusta Ruehl, were arrested at a family dinner party tonight, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses.

The arrest was made on a telegraphic request from Sheriff Vattine of Canon county, Idaho. The message said the complaint was brought by E. F. Larson, cashier of the Citizens State bank of Nampa, Ida., who accused the Ruehls of securing $5,000 by fraud.

Hay Wagon Carries Rockefeller Trunks

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 3.—The main features of the departure of the Rockefeller family this afternoon for their winter home, Rocaplico Hills, N. Y., were the oil king's new fall derby, a driving rain and the arrival of the 22 trunks of the party, from the Forest Hill summer home in a large and very plebian hay wagon.

The party included besides Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller, Miss Lucy Spellman, Mrs. Rockefeller's sister, the oil king's secretaries and a retinue of servants. In all 19 persons boarded a special car attached to the Lakeshore passenger train which left here at 3:10 p. m.

Local newspapers published pictures of Mr. Rockefeller today which were furnished by the multimillionaire himself, his unprecedented action being inspired by his desire to avoid the squad of newspaper photographers who always beset him on his annual departure for the east.

Refused to Surrender.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 3.—The governor of Tripoli in reporting the situation at the blockade town to the Porte, says that when the commander of the Italian fleet sent him a notification that preparations to attack the town were complete and demanding its surrender, the governor replied that he could not give a definite answer until he had consulted his government. The fleet commander declared that he would not wait, whereupon the governor responded:

"You call attack. We will defend ourselves."

An aide nominating the new ministers has been prepared and after its issuance the new cabinet will send either a note to the powers or a circular to the Ottoman ambassadors setting forth Turkey's point of view in the war with Italy.

Two Russian steamers with Turkish troops aboard bound for Yemen from Constantinople have been stopped at Suez as they do not dare to continue up the Mediterranean.

Allowed Derna to Pass.

AGOSTA, Sicily, Oct. 3.—An officer of the destroyer Garibaldi, one of the blockading fleet which has arrived here to recoup, today said:

"The Turkish steamer Derna escaped the blockade and reached Tripoli because our instructions were to let her pass. Her landing of arms, being casus belli, was expected to result in opening of hostilities."

The Derna could have been captured 200 miles from Tripoli, where we discovered her flying the German flag. She had changed her name to that of "Ellet Friederich." The Derna was proceeding at 10 knots and seemed to be under the impression that she was escaping from us. But we followed her with our lights out.

The battleship Napoli, the night before her arrival at Tripoli, flooded her with searchlights. The Derna hoisted the German colors and gave false name and was ordered to proceed."

WEBSTER WILL REPUDIATE 10,000-WORD CONFESSION

OREGON, Ill., Oct. 3.—Dr. Harry Elgin Webster, who confessed to the killing of his wife after a conference with his lawyers, decided late today to repudiate the 10,000-word confession which he made in Chicago, Sunday.

Webster, it is said, will charge that Jessie Kent Webster from whom he threatened to kill him and that she was the aggressor in the fight which led to her death.

EXAMINATION SHOWS PART OF MAINE CAN BE FLOATED

HAANA, Oct. 3.—An examination of the after section of the battleship Maine, comprising about one-third of the ship, has removed all doubt from the engineers of the feasibility of building a bulkhead in it and floating it out of the coffer dam. The fitting of the bulkhead will be commenced as soon as the material is received.

TAFT DIFFERS

"I am not in that class. I was elected as a protectionist."

The president said he was perfectly willing to sign any bill that complied with the Republican platform upon which he was elected, and he hoped that when the people realized the "simplicity of our promises, they will see fit to continue us in power."

"The fact is," he added, "that the defection from the Republican party in the last congressional election, or the defeat of it, was not due to an increased number of Democrats. It was due to the defection of Republicans who insisted that we had not performed our promises. Now, if we go ahead, as I hope we may, and show to them that that is just what we are doing, acting on that tariff board's report, it seems to me that we are not over sanguine in expecting that those Republicans who did not leave us exactly, but who withheld their votes, will now return to the place where they belong."

In his speech before the public lands convention the president made a plea for a reasonable attitude on the part of conservationists generally.

He urged them not to lose everything by claiming too much. He disagreed with many of the views expressed by the convention in recently adopted resolutions.

"Mr. Taft said he thought that the 'fellow' stage of the conservation movement had passed, and that the country now was preparing to 'settle down to a calm consideration of what ought to be done in our preservation of our natural and our national resources, and what steps ought to be taken which the mistakes of the past show to be wise."

THERE IS A REAL FASCINATION IN WEARING A GOOD CORSET

ONE CAN SEE THE DRESS, BUT CAN ONLY SENSE THE CORSET, AND IT MAKES THE FIGURE

To have the lines that are suited to the season's fashions, one must have the right corset

LET US SHOW YOU

Bon Tons and Royal Worcesters

The design of the corset must be scientific in order that each rib and muscle of the corseted form shall feel no pressure.

The flexible quality of Bon Tons and Royal Worcesters affords an opportunity for figure buoyancy and naturalness which has not prevailed for some seasons.

We have models for all style figures, that will be accurately fitted by an experienced corsetiere.

Two of the late season's models are:

Bon Ton Model No. 922, for average figure, medium high bust, cutaway front, long skirt with flexible back bones; six hose supporters, $3.50.

Royal Worcester Model No. 509, for average figure, medium bust, long skirt, flexible back. Made of coutil, $1.75.

Other models from $1 up to $10.

banquet, where 700 covers were laid.

DENVER, Oct. 3.—The Western association of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen met in conference here today with 1,150 delegates in attendance.

Returning from his trip to Fort Logan, President Taft learned that the railway men had expressed a wish to meet the nation's chief executive, and, foregoing a few minutes' rest before starting to the banquet at El Jebel, the president went directly to the convention hall. In a brief address, Mr. Taft congratulated the trainmen upon the passage of the safety appliance law and commended them for their conservatism in all their negotiations with the railway company.

Urges Arbitration.

The general arbitration between Great Britain, France and the United States formed the topic of President Taft's address at the El Jebel temple. The president urged their arbitration by the United States senate and devoted the greater part of his address to a detailed explanation of their provisions. He held that nothing in any provisions of the conventions will prove detrimental to the United States, and that their approval will go toward advancing the cause of world peace. He declared that the United States was especially fitted to take the lead in the peace propaganda because of its prominent position among the world powers and its freedom from entangling alliances.

The president declared that he believed the treaties should be approved without amendment, and explained his frequent reference to them on his present tour to a desire personally to talk with the people, believing that when the people thoroughly understood their provisions there would be a public demand for ratification that could not be disregarded.

During his speech the president referred to his day in Denver and the personal pleasure he felt in again being this city's guest. Much of this portion of his speech was in a humorous vein that appealed strongly to his hearers and evoked repeated applause.

Secures a Year's Subscription to PEARSON'S, THE LADIES' WORLD and THE MOTHERS' MAGAZINE

Subscription Value, $2.75

The above special offers afford the maximum value in subscription bargains. Publications in either offer may be ordered to one or different addresses.

Special Note No. 1.—Commencing with the October issue, Hampton's and the Columbian Magazine will be merged as one periodical and published under the title of "Hampton-Columbian Magazine." This means a big treat for periodical readers, as the publishers have decided to present in the combined publication all the features and fiction contracted for by both Hampton and the Columbian. In fiction alone, this means a new standard in magazine values, as with the October number the Hampton-Columbian Magazine will commence a stunning serial by Rex Beach, also another serial by Sir Gilbert Parker. Every lover of clean, healthy fiction should take advantage of our special Pearson, Hampton-Columbian offer at $1.60.

Special Note No. 2.—The $1.50 offer covers the entire range of periodical reading. It supplies twelve copies each of three publications (thirty-six in all) for the price of Pearson's alone.

For the benefit of those who wish to order other publications in connection with the above, we give the following:

"MUGGSY M'GRAW" IN CHARGE OF BARBECUE

John L. Heron, better known as "Muggsy McGraw," has been elected by the sophs to manage the annual barbecue Halloween night on Washburn field at Colorado college. According to present plans this barbecue will be a larger one than ever before but the bonfire will be missing. Heretofore each soph tried to have a larger fire than the one preceding it and each had such great success that the faculty had to put a stop to the fires.

Last year an imitation of an English hunting feast was given by the sophomores and this year a entertainment promises to be equal to it in fun. However, those in charge of affairs refuse to tell any of their plans. President Jackson will give an address of welcome and the sophomores will furnish the music. Lloyd Shaw will also make a speech just to keep up tradition, for there was never a soph barbecue at which a Shaw did not talk.

The following committees have been appointed to arrange for the annual affair:

Entertainment—Cotton Lewis, Ogilbee, Miss Gasson and Miss McCreery.
Grub—Carv, Perry, Batnes, Miss Green and Miss McKenzie.
Program—Jackson, Appel, Geddes, Miss Graham and Miss Little.

AUTHORITIES STILL WORKING ON MYSTERY

"We're still working, and that's all that can be said," said George Birdsell, sheriff speaking of the Warner-Burnham murder mystery last night. "We have found no new clues and there are no new developments." The same story is told at the police station. The Pinkertons are still working on the case but have no information to give out.

A MOTHER'S DUTY

It is the duty of every expectant mother to prepare her system for the coming of her little one; to avoid as far as possible the suffering of such occasions, and endeavor to pass through the crisis with her health and strength unimpaired. This she may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for external application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much valuable information.

COURT OF DOMESTIC RELATIONS DOES GOOD

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—In the first six months of Chicago's court of domestic relations Judge Charles Goodnow has been able to patch up 1,250 cases without a trial. During this time the judge listened to 2,484 cases of domestic trouble and married couples. All except two of these marriages have been happy as far as the court can ascertain.

"Home has just been heaven," Judge said one grateful wife, "since you talked to my husband. I didn't think any one could do so much for us." It has been the judge's policy to cause reconciliations whenever possible and not to take cases to trial. The court so far has collected more than $25,000 for the benefit of deserted wives and children.

I never use the word 'shot' in performing a ceremony and I do not believe it belongs there," said Judge Goodnow.

American Humane Association Decides They Have Very Great Influence Over Children

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Moving pictures and their effect upon the lives of children were discussed at the session of the American Humane association here today and the convention went on record as favoring the strict censoring of films displayed.

James A. Blafford, former president of the Louisiana Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children in his paper, "Child Saving in Louisiana," said: "Motion pictures have a remarkable effect upon children and would a wonderful influence over them. There is a superabundance of crime depicted by many present-day films, and their tendency is to evil. They should be abolished. In every state the strictest censorship should be maintained."

The train was made up of 10 coaches with about 700 shopmen and clerks recruited in northern cities on board.

AUTO AND MOTORCYCLE COLLIDE; MAN INJURED

An automobile driven by Reid Chambers ran into a motorcycle ridden by J. M. Embler 320 West Fountain street in front of the Antlers hotel yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. No one was seriously injured as the two vehicles were going slowly at the time of the collision. Embler received some bruises which were painful for the moment. He was taken to his home in the machine which had run him down. Chambers was driving the car owned by Hutchinson-Hill Land company, south on Cascade avenue. Embler was riding in the same direction and attempted to pass in front of the car at Pikes Peak avenue when the collision occurred.

Campaign Managers of Sen. Stephenson Tell of Expenses

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 3.—After a long hearing testimony today followed in the case of Senator Stephen A. Stephenson of Illinois. The testimony was given by the campaign managers of Senator Stephenson, who were called to the stand to tell of the expenses incurred by the campaign.

The testimony was given by the campaign managers of Senator Stephenson, who were called to the stand to tell of the expenses incurred by the campaign.

Each Manager Had Duty

Puellher said he merely was custodian of the fund and the extent of his responsibility was to pay it out when requisitions were made. Van Cleave testified he remained at Marquette and other places for more money he went to see the senator. In this way he said he handled $25,000 but he did not know what was done with it beyond that it was sent to the Stephenson headquarters to be expended for campaign purposes.

"Whenever a call came from headquarters in Milwaukee for money you went to Senator Stephenson's office and told him about it—was that it?" asked Senator Heuburn the chairman.

Did the senator readily give up the money?

Yes, replied Van Cleave. He always gave it up. Sometimes he asked what they were doing with all that money as the campaign was costing him to or three times as much as he thought it would. His only comment was that he wanted to keep within the law. Not a dollar was spent corruptly.

LIFE AT HARD LABOR FACES HIGHWAY ROBBER

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 3.—Life imprisonment at hard labor, the penalty provided by the new state law for highway robbery, may be the sentence imposed upon John Murray, convicted in the district court today.

Murray, who was an accomplice of the murder of Joseph Axtell, was arrested after a daring holdup of a pauper shop in the business district during broad daylight. Following the robbery, both Morris and Murray fled through the streets before an angry crowd. Murray was overtaken and clubbed into submission by the police but Morris continued on his wild race through the city.

Three men attempted to intercept the robber's flight and all were shot. Axtell's wounds were mortal.

SANTA FE INCREASES ITS ANNUAL INCOME

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—The total income of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, was $109,772,451, as against $107,513,250 in 1910 according to the annual report made public today. The total expenses were $75,689,094 and the fixed charges $12,712,919, leaving a balance of $21,370,438 against $20,425,784 in 1910.

MALT CONTRACTORS WILL AID HEALTH AUTHORITIES

DENVER, Oct. 3.—The malt contractors of all the breweries except the Golden met with Milk Inspector William Kelly yesterday and agreed not to sell malt to any milk dealer who did not have a permit from the health department certifying that his dairy was sanitary in every respect.

The contractors told Mr. Kelly that they were eager to cooperate with the city in its crusade for clean milk. For a time the health department and the breweries had trouble over the department's attitude towards the feeding of malt to cows.

The department later made stringent rules regarding the hauling, storing and feeding of this distillery waste. These rules specify how the bins, utensils, feeding floors and wagons should be constructed and how they should be cleaned.

JUMPS ON WIFE AFTER PUTTING HER IN SACK

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Attracted by cries of help occupants of the Princess apartment at Long Beach forced an entrance into the rooms occupied by W. W. Wyatt and wife, recent arrivals from Phoenix, Ariz., at 3 o'clock this morning and witnessed an unusual sight.

Wyatt was jumping on a mattress in which he had rolled his wife, and after he had been quieted, husband and wife were removed to a sanitarium.

The mental condition of both will be investigated. According to occupants of the house Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt had been taking considerable interest in religious meetings, and both are said to have been fasting for a week.

Each is about 50. The authorities are trying to locate a son residing in Denver to care for them.

ARGENT DETECTIVE IN COAL DISTRICT FOR DYNAMITING

BOULDER, Oct. 3.—George Fads, a detective in the employ of the Northern Colorado Coal company at Lafayette, was arrested last night by Marshal Cassidy on suspicion of being implicated in dynamiting the general merchandise store of Belmont and Van Deburg on Friday night. When the arrest was made, Charles Hauchins, also a detective, pulled a gun and commanded Cassidy to release Fads. Policeman George Shreve rushed to Cassidy's assistance and succeeded in disarming both detectives.

The men were arraigned before Justice McCune today charged with assault with a deadly weapon and a hearing was set for Friday.

FUNERAL SERMON FOR MAN IS DELIVERED BY HIS WIFE

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 3.—Standing by the coffin that contained the body of her husband, Mrs. Charles A. Buhlman yesterday delivered an impressive funeral oration in which she recounted the story of the married life of herself and husband, his request that the obsequies be as simple as they could be made and that she herself deliver the funeral sermon.

Mrs. Buhlman was dressed in white and there was a generous display of flowers and she sang in a sweet and well modulated voice, two of the dead man's favorite hymns.

American Humane Association Decides They Have Very Great Influence Over Children

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Moving pictures and their effect upon the lives of children were discussed at the session of the American Humane association here today and the convention went on record as favoring the strict censoring of films displayed.

James A. Blafford, former president of the Louisiana Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children in his paper, "Child Saving in Louisiana," said: "Motion pictures have a remarkable effect upon children and would a wonderful influence over them. There is a superabundance of crime depicted by many present-day films, and their tendency is to evil. They should be abolished. In every state the strictest censorship should be maintained."

When the train reached Durant several men left the coaches and started toward nearby stores. They were met with a hail of stones and other missiles and before they had thought their way back to the train three residents were slightly hurt and it is said several strikebreakers were injured.

Guards accompanying the men deny that payment was refused for the goods taken at Winona.

The train was made up of 10 coaches with about 700 shopmen and clerks recruited in northern cities on board.

THE NEW EDUCATION

DO you want to know what cut of beef to order for a stew or roast? Ask Mary. She knows. She is in the eighth grade and studies domestic science. Do you want to have a broken table fixed, or a shelf put up? John can do the job. He spends half-a-day every two weeks in the manual training shop of the Lincoln school.

Superintendent Cole and the Board of Education are in favor of giving the boys and girls of Colorado Springs as good opportunities to secure a training in shop work, sewing, drafting, domestic science and the like as are offered anywhere. A beginning has been made. All boys of the sixth to the eighth grades are required to spend a half-day every other week in learning the elements of manual training. The girls in the same grades spend an equal length of time on sewing, cooking and household management.

It is the desire of Superintendent Cole to have this training begin in the first grade and continue through the High School. There are two reasons why he advocates such a course. First, the pupils and their parents want it and, second, experience has shown that it is a good thing for them to have it. That these reasons are valid is shown by the success of the Polytechnic High School of Los Angeles. This High School has been over-run with students. At the opening of school last month 150 students camped out on the grounds all night in order to be the first to register.

It must not be understood that the local educational authorities are contemplating making the city schools over into trade schools. Not at all. When a boy has graduated from a manual-training course it will not mean that he is a trained carpenter or machinist or draftsman, it will mean that he has been trained in mind and body, especially in mind, so that he can readily acquire any one of a thousand trades or professions. Girls will be trained to be efficient housekeepers. They will learn the nutritive value of foods, they will learn how to get the best meal for the least price; they will know how to sew and to do things expeditiously. But this is not all. Both boys and girls will be required to take courses in English, history, mathematics, science and a foreign language. A well rounded education, suited to the needs of the 75 per cent of High School students that do not go to College as well as to the needs of the 25 per cent that do go to College is the ideal of our Board of Education. That is why they have already installed a thorough commercial course. That is why they have decided to spend $100,000 on a new building to be used primarily for manual training.

The schools and colleges of the country play a part, and a large part, in the life of the nation. Both educators and people realize as never before that the purpose of an education is to enable men and women to live efficiently and broadly. Those educational institutions that have fulfilled this purpose most completely have been given the full confidence of all the people. The University of Wisconsin is such an institution. This university has gained and not lost by becoming less "academic," and by taking an active part in the solutions of problems of all kinds, political, mechanical and economic.

It was the service of the University of Wisconsin to the state that led a member of an English educational commission to characterize it thus: "The University of Wisconsin is a wholesome product of a commonwealth of three millions of people; sane, industrial, and progressive. It knits together the professions and labors; it makes the fine arts and the anvil one."

The Board of Education and the teachers will have the enthusiastic support of the citizens of Colorado Springs in their plans for a more efficient and broader school system.

THE PRESIDENT'S TOUR

"PRESIDENT WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT is confounding his political enemies and astonishing his friends by the popularity he is proving on his long trip across the country. This is the view of the Herald-Telegraph as expressed in an editorial on "President Taft's Triumphal Tour."

The President may or may not be the most popular man in the United States. His renomination may be probable, but it is not "a foregone conclusion." Our contention is that the people who greet the Chief Executive courteously, cordially or even enthusiastically do not, thereby, show that they have altered their political outlook. It is narrow-mindedness to let a difference of opinion result in discourtesy. The people of Kansas, and Nebraska and Iowa and Colorado are not narrow-minded.

The news articles from Lincoln, Nebraska, report that William J. Bryan cordially toasted the President. But we do not conclude from this that Bryan has become a Republican. The news notices also report that Governor Aldrich escorted the President to the state boundary and then said "I'm for La Follette."

Sumner Curtis of the Chicago Record-Herald reports "Cummins in dilemma after visit of Taft." A straw vote was taken from four progressives and four stand-patters in each county. The following are the questions and results.

One question was "Who is your first and second choice for Republican candidate for President?" The answers were divided as follows:
First choice—Taft 20, Cummins 56, La Follette, 21.
Second choice—Taft, 14, Cummins, 20, La Follette, 59.
To the question, "If Taft is nominated will you support him?" 21 answered "Yes," 64 "No," and there were 12 blanks.
Other questions and replies were as follows:
Do you approve Taft's signing of the Payne-Aldrich bill?—Yes, 12, no, 31.
Do you favor conservation as taught by Roosevelt and Pinchot, or as proposed by Taft and Ballinger? The replies totaled 40 in favor of the first combination and 2 for the latter.
Do you approve the attack on Dr. Wiley?—Yes, 3, no, 81.
Do you approve Canadian reciprocity as proposed by Taft?—Yes, 21, no, 71.
Do you approve the action of Senator Cummins and other so-called insurgents in opposing reciprocity?—Yes 72 no 16.
Do you approve Taft's veto of the woolen revision bill?—Yes, 18, no, 70.
Do you believe Taft's administration favors the farmers or the trusts?—Farmers, 5, trusts, 58.

President Taft may have gained greatly in popularity because of his tour. However, the evidence does not warrant a conclusion one way or the other.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer
Maine seems to be terribly agitated over whether it is wet or dry. Inasmuch as it has been wet for a long time this anxiety seems inexplicable.

NAVY RESIGNATIONS
From the Detroit News.
The navy department is said to be receiving an unusually large number of resignations from midshipmen and ensigns. These young men, occupants of the lowest commission rank in the naval service, have been only recently graduated from the academy at Annapolis. Their training has cost the country a good deal of money. To see them trying to get out of the service almost before entering actively upon it is a sight hardly calculated to encourage those who have been rearing them or the nation that has been putting up for their education. It does seem as if close investigation would be profitable in suggestions, at least, for the betterment of the midshipman's and the ensign's lot to the point of retaining him.

DR. WILEY EXONERATED
From the Journal of the American Medical Association.
President Taft has exonerated Dr. Wiley of the charge preferred against him. In doing so, he has given official voice to the verdict already rendered by the American press and people. If the attack against Dr. Wiley were a mere personal fight, it could be allowed to rest. But it is a principle, not a man, that is at stake. Dr. Wiley's enemies are opposed to him because he represents a principle of that protection to the consumer. They would be equally antagonistic to any other individual holding the same position and actuated by the same ideas. Of the venomous and harassing tactics of McCabe and the sycophantic attitude of Dunlap in the carefully laid plot to depose Dr. Wiley, the president says nothing at present. He does indeed hint that the demoralized condition of the department of agriculture will call for executive action. If President Taft means that he will, at the earliest convenient opportunity, sever the connection of McCabe and Dunlap with the government, he will find that he is merely expressing the opinion of the American people as to what should be done in this matter. Meanwhile, congratulations are due to the president on the wisdom of his decision, to Dr. Wiley on being exonerated from the malicious and unfounded charge, and to the people of the United States, because they still have Dr. Wiley to stand between them and the food adulterators.

TOD INCLUSIVE
A Berlin dispatch says that Professor Ernst Haeckel is now satisfied that the human soul, so called, is only a function of a brain cell, and fundamentally a mere muscular activity. Therefore, the professor says, its immortality is a myth! So he told the Monist congress at Berlin.
What very serious people the learned Germans are, and how gravely they make their petrifactive announcements! Is the sense of humor a mere muscular activity also? If so, Professor Haeckel ought to cultivate it. No man with a sense of humor could make an announcement so disproportionate to his own dimensions as this one that he has put out. On such a matter a wise man will be content to speak only for himself. If he says, "I have no soul," his followers will perhaps convey to him the polite expression of their sympathy. But if he says nobody has a soul, they will only laugh. Monism, the materialistic philosophy which Professor Haeckel expounds, holds to the identity of matter and mind. Men are criticized, sometimes because they want something for nothing. The Monists are free from that fault. They prefer nothing for something. In the present state of the development of the human mind their ideas seem unlikely to enjoy any very wide patronage. Men who think their have immortal soul, sometimes have as though they had them. A good deal of the time they do not but still believe in the soul and its immortality undoubtedly has a favorable effect on human character and conduct.

Sunflower Philosophy

Our home is rather humble, Maud, the roof is on the bum, the kitchen table's wagger-jawed, the chairs are out of plumb. The stairway railings badly hacked, the screen door has no catch our crockery is mostly cracked. I do not blame you that you see rich dames scotching in their gorgeous chug-chug carts. We have this comfort, though, my pet—a joy that never sours. We're absolutely out of debt and what we have is ours. I'd rather use a swag-backed chair, attired in garments faded, than loll on divan rich and rare for which I hadn't paid. Some day I hope to take you, dear, a trip around the globe, and you will make the queens look queer when in your jeweled robe, but until I can raise the price, to give you gems, my pet this cheap John lay out must suffice. I still not go in debt.

THE DAILY CHAT

There is a certain subtle element in the question of what causes the higher cost of living which it strikes me, has been strangely neglected in all our numerous discussions on the subject. And that is the per-package cost aspect of the case.
It seems to me that the present age of house-keeping might well be characterized as the jar-package age. In fact, a tendency is there now-a-days towards buying everything—crackers, cheese, bacon, tea, coffee, spices and what all in jars, packages or cans instead of in bulk, as we used to do ten or twenty years ago.
But what on earth you question has this to do with the cost of living?

Well, in the first place it is self-evident that when you buy stuff by the jar, package or can, you pay for that jar, package or can. You may pay for it, by giving slightly increased price for the commodity. You may pay for it, by receiving an inferior quality of goods.
But you surely pay for it. For you can't get something for nothing—even a tin can—is one of the immutable laws of life.
Yes, I see that you are tip-toeing your nose very scornfully at this ridiculous small-mindedness and saying "How much does a tin can or a crockery jar cost—a penny perhaps." Perhaps so. Perhaps even less. But the point is not what does one tin can or one crockery jar cost but what do the dozens and dozens that have been carried away in your refuse in the last 10 years cost?

In the second place there is the question of quantity. Some packages inform us themselves that they contain a certain amount—a pound, a half pound, five pounds. Now well. We hope they do. But in a certain western city, a very energetic dealer of weights and measures turned the whole city upside down by reviling "getting onto his job" and discovering how very few shopkeepers were honest in their measurings.
How can we be sure that the big manufacturers are any more honest?
And yet how many of us ever put the matter to a test, by actually weighing the contents of some of these packages?
Furthermore, some packages do not even pretend to enlighten us as to the amount they contain. But the package or jar looks so neat and tidy that we buy it, without having any idea how much we are getting for our money.
I have been told that this is a favorite trick of manufacturers to establish a package or jar of something in the public mind as a most advantageous purchase, and then to gradually decrease the size of that package. The public goes on paying the same old price for the smaller package, and congratulating itself that the price of this commodity at least has not gone up.

Now, mind you this is not by any means intended as a wholesale condemnation of everything not sold in bulk.
It is simply and solely a little suggestion that we look into the matter and try to see if the reign of jar package and can may not have something to do with the skyrocketing tendencies of our grocery and provision bills.

Little Bobbie's Pa

By WILLIAM F. KIRK
There was six ladies came up to the house last night, that called themselves the Milton Matrons. They told Pa that they had interested Ma in the movement for better poetry.
I ain't much interested poetically, Pa said. But any time you are ready to go ahead go on.
Very well, said one of the ladies. We wasn't going to take anybody of the male sex into our confidence at first but now that you are here, we are willing to tell you why we call ourselves the Milton Matrons. We call ourselves that because we are sick & tired of the jingles on the market to-day. Like Alexander's Ragtime Band. What we want is the old class stuff like—
In Paradise they stood like two (2) twin saints
Watching the ivy cling to the tree
When Adam unto Eve remarked, "By gum"
That ivy certainly is clinging some!"
I don't blame you much for telling me the way you do about modern jerricks. Pa said. But I want to tell you girls that there is a grand chance to cop a little dough if you try to be something else than Milton Matrons. Why, don't you try being plain verse ritters, & call yourselves Byron Buttes or Burns Babies, or Shakespeare Sisies? I was thinking of going out to the billyard tournament tonight, said Pa, but if I must stay here & listen to this spouting of poetry I suppose I must.
I have a little poem here which I will like to recite, said the lady with hair in ringlets. Her name was Missus Gillette, & she had a funny little black mustash. Pa seen the mustash & said that it was a discredit to the noebel man, that boar the name with Missus Gillette was bearing. & this is the poem that Missus Gillette recited:
"Oh, dark!" "Oh, dark!" I love thee to distract-shun,
I love thee for the darkness that possesseth;
I love to think that when the sun has set
The darkness comes and leaves me not where all is dark.
Where sunshine lures me not where all is dark.
Will, said Ma to Missus Gillette, that is certainly a sum dark poem. It so said, a little like Sam Langford looks. Pa said only not so convincing.
I am sorry you didn't like it, said Missus Gillette, if you don't like it I will recite you another poem, called Rain in the Bronx.
It rains. The Bronx is in a mist
While all the geese are flying South
I wish one goose would please doth
And land at this my learning house.
Milton Matrons said Pa. Can't you recite a little more poetry?
Bobbie, Pa said let us go over to see the veddy show.

The Danger of Spitting in Public Places

The Prime Cause of Consumption and Epidemics of Many Other Diseases.

One of a series of articles contributed by members of the Colorado State Medical Society.

Excrement of any nature deposited upon the earth usually dries, becomes pulverized, and later is lifted into the air. After a long period the air becomes actually laden with microbes.

William P. Sedwick, Ph. D., (Prof. of biology in the Massachusetts Institute of technology), detected in 10 quarts of air 200,000 micro-organisms. The so-called "atmospheric crisis" with which civilization is threatened, is due in part to the filthy habit of spitting in public places.

Spitting in public places is not only a specific nuisance, but is the source of much harm in the spread of disease. Perhaps the most frequent cause of infection with tuberculosis (consumption) results from careless disposition of sputum laden with the germ of this disease. The bacilli of tuberculosis can be found in tremendous numbers in the lungs affected with consumption.

It has been estimated that as many as 7,000,000 bacilli are sometimes expectorated in 24 hours by one actively affected with pulmonary tuberculosis. The manner in which the infection from man to man most readily occurs is through the inhalation of air laden with tubercle bacilli. For example, should a tuberculous patient expectorate on a floor wall, with street playground, or anywhere where the sputum has a chance to dry and become pulverized, it is sure to be lifted into the air, and float in the dust of the air, and anyone predisposed to tuberculosis, is likely, on breathing this air, to become infected with consumption. This is also true with la grippe, pneumonia etc.

The so-called "droplet infection" is another way tuberculosis is transmitted from man to man. Some tuberculous patients are careful as to the proper disposition of their expectoration ordinarily, but the droplets of sputum expelled in the acts of coughing and sneezing, have been allowed to dry and enter the atmosphere without consideration. When coughing or sneezing one should always hold his handkerchief before his mouth. Fluge and Latzshenk demonstrated the necessity of this precaution in this way. They had tuberculous patients sneeze and cough in sterilized glass boxes, then they inoculated animals with material scraped from these boxes. As a result of this inoculation tuberculosis resulted in the animals inoculated.

Need Not be a Menace.
The careful, clean tuberculous patient is not dangerous to those with whom he comes in contact. The matter coughed up and sneezed out by consumptives, however, is full of living germs, too small to be seen. These germs are the cause of consumption and when breathed into weak lungs, they set up the disease.

Sweeping with dry brooms, street or floors, where there is dry sputum, aids in the spread of such diseases as tuberculosis, la grippe, pneumonia, etc. Careless spitting in public places is also dangerous because flies carry the infection. Tubercle bacilli have been found in the dust coming from the crumbled bodies of dead flies. If spitting in public places were abolished, epidemic of la grippe, pneumonia, etc., would be less to be feared and more easily controlled.

The tubercle bacilli retains its virulence in the dry state for several months. The writings and experimental work of Villemin, Weber, Koch, Tappeiner, Cornet and others confirm this. No one should touch food without first washing the hands. Napkins used by tuberculous patients should be washed after each meal. It would be better still to use paper napkins and burn them after each meal.

The telephone call box or booth, is a harbor of disease. The infection from this source is largely through the droplets of sputum dried upon the mouth piece. In the language of the "Lancet" July 27th, 1907. "Condensations from the breath of previous users." In this way caller after caller may thus either give or receive infection.

Consumption is chiefly caused by the filthy habit of spitting. Don't spit where it is possible for the sputum to dry, become reduced to a powder and float in the air.
Where Spitting is Most Dangerous.
The sleeping car is another public place where spitting is fraught with special danger. In these cars the spittoons are usually dry and not filled with water, as all spittoons should be. Because of this fact and the further fact that the cars are ordinarily thoroughly heated, and the air within them very dry, the sputum in men soon dries and is reduced to a powder, and in a very short time floats in the air of the car.

Spitting on school playgrounds is fraught with disastrous results to the little ones. In this way many an innocent child contracts tuberculosis, la grippe, pneumonia, etc.

While it is true that anti-spitting laws are in vogue in many of our cities, it is likewise true that they should not be necessary. One should awaken to a full realization of the danger of spitting in public places. He should have the welfare of humanity sufficiently at heart to refrain for that reason alone. Spitting in public places is a dirty, filthy habit, creates a nuisance, and spreads disease.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

October 4, 1881.

Matt Wilbur's two horses, Teaser and Ada Paul, won first and second money respectively, at the state fair in World county.

At a meeting in Canon City of delegates from counties south of the Divide, a resolution was passed that any city later agreed upon as a rival to Denver for the state capital, would be given united support. The Gazette published an open letter to voters, signed by a committee of 12 prominent Colorado Springs citizens, pointing out the advantages of this city, and citing that the Colorado Springs company would donate a site of 10 acres to the state if the capital were removed here from Colorado City. C. E. T. Ensign, secretary, John Curr and Gen. L. D. Sherman, who still are residents of the city were members of the committee.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

October 4, 1891.

Charles F. A. Straube was killed by the accidental discharge of his rifle while rabbit hunting. No inquest was held.

The first snow of the season at Palmer Lake was reported.

It was announced that the late J. H. B. McFerran left no will. He was one of the most prominent citizens of the early days, and left an estate valued at approximately $400,000.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McCoy. Mr. McCoy is now an employee of The Gazette.

Seven Famous Clubs

History has always attached much importance to the Number Seven. Of all numbers there is one which commanded, in a higher degree, the esteem and reverence of mankind. The Gazette has taken this charmed number, and has woven into stories on a variety of subjects a Series of Sevens, beginning each Monday and continuing during the week.

NO. 3 THE CLUB

Although a number of lists have been printed which profess to give the names of "the principal clubs of London," they may be searched in vain for that one which can rightly claim to be The Club. Nevertheless, ignorance of its existence can hardly be reckoned a reproach in view of the confession of Tennyson.
Alfred Tennyson, when asked by a member, "The Duke of Argyll," to allow him to place his name in nomination, the late English poet laureate rejoined:
"Before answering definitely, I should like to know something about expenses. 'The Club' is it either my fault or my misfortune that I have never heard of it?"
When the poet made that confession he was in his fifty-sixth year and up to that time, apparently, had not read his Boswell; or, if he had, he was not aware that the club Sir Joshua Reynolds had founded in 1764 under the name of The Club, of which the title had subsequently been changed to the Literary club, still existed under its original designation.

Another fact is likely to confuse the historian of this club unless he is careful. Owing to the fact that Dr. Johnson was one of the original members, he dominated its policy after his usual autocratic manner. It is sometimes known as Dr. Johnson's club. However, there is no disputing the fact that the credit of its origin belongs to the "dear knight of Plympton," as the great painter was called by one of his friends.

The idea of its establishment at once won the approval of Johnson, and it started on its illustrious career having as its members those two and Edmund Burke, Dr. Nugent, Topham, Beauclerk, Bennett, Langton, Oliver Goldsmith, Anthony Chamer and Sir John Hawkins. Soon after its foundation the number of members was increased to 12, then it was enlarged to 20, and subsequently to 26, then to 30 and finally to 35, with a proviso that the total should never exceed 40.

To set forth a list of the members of the club from 1764 to the beginning of the present century would be to write down the names of so many of the men most eminent in English history. In Boswell's time those who had been admitted to its select circle included David Garrick, Adam Smith, Edward Gibbon, Sir William Jones, Sir William Hamilton, Charles James Fox, Bishop Percy, Dr. Joseph Wharton and Richard Brinsley Sheridan. In more modern days the members have included Tennyson, Macaulay, Huxley, Gladstone, Lord Acton, Lord Dufferin, W. H. E. Locky and Lord Salisbury. The limit of membership is still maintained. It is yet the rule that one black ball will exclude, and the election of a member is still announced in the stilted form which Gibbon drafted by way of a joke: "Sir, I have the pleasure to inform you that you had last night the honor to be elected as a member of 'The Club'."

In the earlier and happier days of this social organization it was one night proposed by Dr. Goldsmith that the members should write burlesque epitaphs on each other. On Garrick's hearing the proposal he immediately said "Giddy, I have written yours already."

"Here lies Nolly Goldsmith, for shortness called Noll.
Who wrote like an angel and talked like poor Poll."

For this and many other pleasanties, however, to which, in his intercourse with The Club Goldsmith's singular simplicity and good nature subjected him, he took ample revenge in his well-known poem of "Retigation."

Tomorrow—The Beefsteak Club.

ready has been accomplished and glowing reports have been received as to the successful training of the boys. The American Red Cross society is accustomed to send a corps of surgeons, physicians and nurses in a car throughout the country. This car stops in various towns along the railroad over which it travels and the doctors give practical lectures. Under the arrangement made at the suggestion of the Boy Scouts of America, troops of Boy Scouts meet the car at each town and the boys receive several hours of training. In many instances Scouts have tramped miles to meet the car and to get this valuable training. The boys everywhere have been eager for the instruction. Dr. M. J. Shields who is in charge of the Red Cross car traveling throughout the west and south, writes to the national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America that he is greatly pleased with the success of his work among the Scouts.

"At Austin, Texas," he writes, "We gave two meetings to the Scouts, the local command and the Temple Scouts who were on a 'hike.' At San Antonio we had a splendid meeting, and had a Mr. Butler, Scout Master from Florenceville, who spent the whole day with us learning first aid. I will meet a detail here but the majority of the Scouts are away at camp. The Scout Masters and the Scouts are very appreciative and compliment the Red Cross and myself on the practical way that we explain first aid to them."
"The Red Cross car is scheduled to make a trip of 30,000 miles in one year. It is being hauled free by the different railroads as the value of such training is appreciated throughout."

THE ADEPT

From the Indianapolis News.
A man and a woman were in a dispute as to which could tell the bigger lie. The woman was given the right of way for her effort. "I was walking across the Atlantic ocean, she said, "and met a man no taller than that (she held one hand two feet from the floor to indicate his height), who was 300 years old."

The man whistled. It was a big one, all right. "Did the dwarf have a wooden leg?" the man asked.

The woman replied that he did. "Was he blind in one eye?" was the next question.

"He was," replied the woman.

"Then," replied the man "he was my son."

RANGER COURSE AT COLORADO COLLEGE

A ten-weeks ranger course, beginning December 13, is to be given this winter by the Colorado School of Forestry. The aim of the course is to give in a limited time as much instruction as possible in forestry and related subjects to those interested or actually engaged in forest ranger work. Until January 1, the course will consist of lectures at Colorado Springs. After that date the instruction will be transferred to the school's reserve at Manitou Park, 25 miles west of this city. The lectures will be given by the faculty of the school of forestry, by members of the faculty of Colorado college, of which the school is a department, and by the forest service. They will comprise discussion of the fundamental principles of silviculture and forest administration, forest law, grazing problems, construction of roads, trails, telephone lines, cabins, etc., diseases of trees and forest entomology, identification of the more important woods and trees, and of other subjects of practical value to the ranger or woodsman. The course includes also lectures on general botany, geology and first aid to the injured. It provides for those that wish instruction in mechanical drawing suitable to the preparation of forest maps, mathematics and other elementary subjects.

The field work at Manitou Park will be conducted by the faculty of the school of forestry. It will consist of practice in surveying, estimating, forest mapping and description, preparation of volume and growth tables, marking of trees for cutting, study of lumbering at the school's mill, instruction in packing, horse-shoeing, etc.

Information concerning the course may be obtained from Philip T. Colledge, director, Colorado School of Forestry, Colorado Springs.

HIGH PRAISE FOR THIS CITY BY EASTERN PAPER

That Colorado Springs is one of the foremost communities in America in recognizing the value of a reputation as a city of homes, is the position accorded this city by the Birmingham Ledger. In a recent issue the southern journal devoted a full page to a description of this city's park system. The article was illustrated with views of Monument Valley park, Stratton park and the Garden of the Gods. Data for the article was furnished, upon request, by the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce, through its publicity bureau. Commenting on the park system of this city, the Ledger editor paid this city the following compliment:

Is Permanent Asset.
To acquire a reputation for being a city of homes is a valued permanent asset to any municipality. The people of means, the practical men who are active in industrial and commercial effort, citizens the greater part of whose time is devoted to the development of a community's material resources and the accumulation of money fully realize the importance and value of a move that will make their city attractive as a place in which to live, and inviting to desirable investors. As a rule, the city that devotes time and expense to the development of this feature of municipal advancement is prosperous and its people are happy. Such a city commands the favorable consideration of visitors, tourists and prospective settlers, and for this very reason thousands of desirable people are influenced to settle permanently in these cities. All the cities that have made serious efforts to improve themselves as attractive places of residence have found the improvement well and permanently valuable. Many cities are waking up to the importance of this in enabling them to compete with sister cities in attracting capital and home-seekers, and the more they do in this field the greater they find the benefits.

Praises Park System.
"Colorado Springs is one of the cities which have found the development of the home idea through the establishment and maintenance of an attractive park and parkway system and the improvement of its streets and squares highly profitable. It has one of the most unique park systems in the country, a system that has grown out of highly favorable natural conditions. It affords well-nigh unlimited advantages for recreation, rest and enjoyment; and it has been the most potent force in the building up of a handsome city of homes."

Large gifts to the city by public-spirited citizens, who appreciated the value of an excellent park system, were supplemented by a hearty cooperation from the people in the carrying out of this move. In a large part of the undertaking nature has been left practically undisturbed, and this has contributed largely to the beauty of the general plan. The example of Colorado Springs in this feature of municipal development is well worthy of serious consideration at the hands of the people of other cities. The Ledger gives below a description of the plans, purposes and achievements of Colorado Springs in the development of its park system, and hopes it will have some influence in opening the eyes of the people of Birmingham to the value and need of a comprehensive park system here. Certainly an impressive lesson is given which should bear fruit.

Following this editorial expression was a sketch descriptive of the Colorado Springs park system, its history, its cost and its value as a community asset.

MOTHERS' CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING TODAY

The Mothers' club of the Cheyenne school district will hold its first meeting this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. An interesting program has been arranged and the music will be furnished by the children of the school. Mrs. J. W. Brauer is president of the club and a secretary will be elected at the meeting today. The attendance at the school this year far exceeds that of last. Many improvements have been made around the building; one of the most important being the laying of an eight-foot cement walk from the building to Cheyenne road, a distance of about 90 feet.

EXCELLENT POSITION FOR COLO. COLLEGE GRADUATE

B. M. Rastall of the class of 1901 at Colorado college, who has held the chair of associate professor of business administration at the University of Wisconsin, during the last three years, has been elected director of the state board of public affairs in Wisconsin at a salary of $4,000 per year. He will devote four days a week to the work of this board.

B. M. RASTALL

During the past year Professor Rastall and Professor John R. Commons of the University of Wisconsin have been the leaders in the work of the Milwaukee bureau of economy and efficiency. Mr. Rastall will continue his labors with that bureau, which consist largely in devising uniform system of accounting for the city of Milwaukee.

Mr. Rastall has been interested in the business affairs of several cities in Wisconsin. A Fond du Lac paper speaks of him in the following terms: "The announcement to the effect that Prof. B. M. Rastall, associate professor of business administration at the University of Wisconsin, has been chosen director of the state board of public affairs, will meet with widespread approval throughout the state, and especially among those who have knowledge of the highly efficient work he has been accomplishing. Prof. Rastall will be remembered long and kindly here in Fond du Lac. It was his address on civic government, delivered before the last annual meeting of the business men's association, which gave the movement for a better and higher Fond du Lac such a strong impetus. Prof. Rastall, as director of the state board of public affairs, will undoubtedly prove to be the right man in the right place."

MANY SPRINGS BUSINESS

MEN WILL GO TO CALHAN

All together for a greater El Paso County.
This is the sentiment of the business men of Colorado Springs, and they are going to give a practical manifestation to this spirit by joining, 100 strong, in a trip to Calhan to visit the El Paso county fair Friday of this week.

Members of the trade and commerce committee of the Chamber of Commerce who are engineering the excursion are making a lively campaign among the business men, and are meeting with encouragement everywhere.

Wholesalers, retailers, bankers, commission men, lawyers and doctors—all are joining in the plan, and the excursion will be one of the most popular ever made by Colorado Springs business men.

It is everywhere recognized that every opportunity to cement closer relations between the city and the eastern part of the county should be taken advantage of, and this is considered a most opportune time to show Colorado Springs neighbors that it is desirous of cooperating with them.

Reports from Calhan indicate that the fair will be one of the most successful ever held. Farmers throughout eastern El Paso county, as well as in Elbert, and other adjoining counties, have this year been making special effort to raise and collect unusually good specimens in view of the forthcoming fair farming exposition in this city. What the people of Colorado Springs will see at Calhan in the way of agricultural products will be an eye-opener to many who have not as yet realized the possibilities of this section, if properly developed.

Frank M. Wolff is chief engineer for the excursion, and he is making preparations with his usual energy and enthusiasm. Tickets for the trip, at $1.55 for the round trip, may be secured from him or from other members of the trade and commerce committee: L. J. Newcome, J. G. Derr, F. A. Sperry and A. B. Meserve, or at the office of the Chamber of Commerce.

Can't Cure Catarrh

Stomach Dosing, Sprays and Donches Have All Failed

There's only one way to cure catarrh. Reach the raw, tender, inflamed membrane that is infected with catarrh germs, and destroy the germs. You can't reach the nooks and crevices with liquid preparations—there is only one way—breathe the antiseptic germ killing air of HYOMEI (pronounced High-o-mei) directly over the infected parts.

HYOMEI contains no opium, cocaine or other harmful drugs. It is made of Australian eucalyptus, thymol and other Listerian antiseptics. It is guaranteed to end the misery of catarrh, asthma, croup and bronchitis, or money back.

Ask your druggist about the HYOMEI outfit today. He sells it for only $1.00 and it is guaranteed. Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y., will mail sample free.

If you are paying-- say from $1.00 to $5.00 for an ordinary corset would you not pay from $3.00 to $10.00 for an extraordinary corset?

Women who have paid from $15.00 to $35.00 per pair for their corsets are now buying the Redfern—from $3.00 to $15.00 per pair—and getting better results.

If you want the right figure, you want a Redfern.

If you want the best corset there is, you want a Redfern.

It is the only corset not custom-made that is boned throughout with genuine Whalebone—the boning recognized by fashion creators the world over as the only bone that flexibly sustains corsets or gowns.

The Redfern fabrics are weaves especially woven for these corsets. Light and strong, but wonderfully smooth, fitting the figure like oilskin.

The "Redfern" is our special high-class corset, the most fashionably cut there is. We can fit correctly and with perfect comfort, any figure. Expert corsetiere in attendance at all lines.

THE DAY'S NEWS IN SPORT CIRCLES

LOPE FAVORS NEW YORK IN APPROACHING CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES WITH PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—Now that is settled beyond a doubt that the Athletics and Giants will be the contending teams in the 1911 world's series, fans scribble and other dopesters figuring upon the probable outcome of the games, and it seems that no favor the chances of the National league in spite of the fact that they will be opposing world champions and one of the best ball teams ever put together.

Throughout the country there is an unqualified interest being manifested in the coming struggle. A majority of the non-partisan fans are very well used that the contest will be between the forces of Mack and McGraw. It is freely predicted that not only a financial standpoint, but from an artistic standpoint the series will be the greatest in the history of the game of sports, and that each and every game will prove a thrilling battle between well matched foes.

The writer has seen the Athletics in dozen games and is convinced of their class. Connie Mack has an aggregation of able young hustlers who play the game from start to finish. I never overlook a bet. There is a lack of individualism in their line of play and not a man on the team is prone to pull a bonehead stunt. Their team is safely in the lead, especially in the rear or whether the flit is a neck and neck struggle of which proves the great generalship of the astute manager of the Athletics for the men in his charge with few exceptions leads in their line.

The American league premiers are all able in defensive as well as offensive play and their infield is a real of guards and steadiness. The field guards never fail to hold their end and cover a vast amount of territory. Against opponents of their own league the batters have powers and it is a matter of history that they had it easy trimming Chicago Cubs last fall.

However, to our mind, they will be fronted by an entirely different position when they stack up against the Athletics. It is going to be the supreme test for Connie's men and if they come through with ring colors they surely must be in credit for being the world's champion team in fact as well as by name.

Last year when the Athletics humiliated the Cubs it was claimed that the team in the National league had been put against the Johnsonian representatives, and then the untimely injury to Johnnie Rivers weakened considerably.

This year provided the Giants keep up and have none of their stars piled during the balance of the National league season, the parent organization sympathizers will have no excuse making if the world's championship remains with the present holders. No other team in the league is so well fitted for a series of games as the Athletics, on close figuring McGraw's men to have a shade the better of the Athletics.

There should be six games between teams with the Giants coming out on top in the required four games who brought the Athletics to the National league, will be to bear the brunt of the world's series battles, and they qualify in all particulars. They will be opposed to a team which boasts of a versatile attack. One thing certain, however, is that they will not be able to up even a trifle at any stage of the series, for the Athletics have a habit of rallying when least expected and to be numbered among the pluckiest of teams.

It is at the battery points that the Athletics will overcome an advantage the Athletics have on them in other departments.

Pittsburghers having seen the Giants in a number of their best games this season, have a pretty good line on the playing strength of the members of McGraw's team. They know that there are formidable batters in the Gotham lineup and that they stand first as base stealers. All are familiar with the ability of Mathewson and Marquard as pitchers.

It is no secret that in defensive play the Giants are frequently erratic and slip up on easy chances and also that just as often by spectacular bits of fielding they get out of tight places.

Eddie Collins is all that has been claimed for him as an all around ball player. He is the best fielding second baseman in the business and never makes a false move. He ranks well as a hitter because he never goes after a bad ball and is one of the hardest men in the game to pitch to. Left field is his favorite spot for dropping bingles and he hits well after having two strikes. He is one of the best stars who never tries to show up his own greatness and consequently is a popular and winning captain.

Barry, at short and Baker at third cover a vast amount of ground and are lightning fast on all kinds of inside plays. If they have a weakness it is on slow rollers which they are inclined to handle and throw white off balance.

Baker is one of the team's star hitters and has the cleanup assignment in the batting order. He is the only full sized athlete holding down an infield position. Baker bats left handed and has a nice free swing. Jack Barry is not noted as a slugger, but there is no one on the team who hits in more timely fashion.

The real sensation of the Athletics this season is McGraw's boy who is holding down first base. "Stuffy," who celebrated his twenty-first birthday last week, is the smallest initial sark custodian in the big leagues, but right now is putting up a game that could not be beat. He is a wonder on spearing wide throws and handles ground balls better than any of his rivals. McGraw is a rattling good stickler and is fast on the bases.

"Bris" Lord, "Rube" Oldring, "Hank" Strunk and "Danny" Murphy will do garden duty for the Mackmen. While in repose not one would impress an observer as being built for speed. Lord looks like he was carrying about 15 pounds excess baggage, but he gets around in chipper fashion and is some hitter. Oldring fields and hits well and will probably hold down center field in preference to Strunk. While Murphy is no longer a youngster he is easily able to keep pace with the kids on the team and is good at the hit and run game.

Yes, Mack has a splendid team of players, who keep their wits about them always, and play safe and sane baseball. The Giants are inclined toward recklessness, and their success in getting away with a fair percentage of the long chances they take, as well as the wonderful pitching of Matty and Devere's single in the sixth inning New York knocked Alexander off the rubber and also pounded Stanley's delivery, nine runs being scored on eight hits, which included doubles by Merkle, Fletcher and Doyle, a triple by Murray, two passes, two stolen bases and an error.

Philadelphia was unable to solve Crandall's delivery after the first inning. A "southpaw" pitcher, named Smith, who stands six feet four inches high, and whose home is near Pittsburgh, held New York down to one hit in the last two innings.

SOME ALL-AMERICAN STARS

Four stars of the gridiron, who are picked by "Monty" for members of an all-American-all-time team. On the left is McKay, the crack Harvard tackle of last year, who is again shining with this year's Crimson aggregation. On the right is John R. DeWitt, wonderful Princeton kicker and guard of 1903-4. Below is Ted Coy, Yale fullback of 1909, making a forward pass. In the center is Walter Eckersall, quarterback of Chicago university four years ago, whose superior has never been known. These men stand supreme in their positions, outclassing, according to "Monty," the stars of older days and their rivals of the present day.

MUTES DEFEAT SECOND HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN

The Colorado School for the Deaf and Blind had an easy time of it in yesterday's game with the second team of the Colorado Springs High school, winning by a score of 17 to 7. The mutes made three touchdowns and kicked goal twice, while the second team had to be satisfied with a touchdown and a safety. The feature of the game was the playing of Shaner, left tackle for the mutes. Coach Coffin threw every substitute player and all the members of the second team into the game in an effort to get a line on his utility men.

Giants Win Again.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—New York won from Philadelphia today. Manager Mack of the Philadelphia Americans watched the game. Both teams hit the ball hard in the first inning, the visitors getting two runs to Philadelphia's three. Crandall and Alexander then settled down and pitched fine ball until the fifth, when New York tied the score on an error by Doan, a pass and Devere's single. In the sixth inning New York knocked Alexander off the rubber and also pounded Stanley's delivery, nine runs being scored on eight hits, which included doubles by Merkle, Fletcher and Doyle, a triple by Murray, two passes, two stolen bases and an error.

Philadelphia was unable to solve Crandall's delivery after the first inning. A "southpaw" pitcher, named Smith, who stands six feet four inches high, and whose home is near Pittsburgh, held New York down to one hit in the last two innings.

CUBS CANNOT WIN; MAY TIE NEW YORK

By winning Tuesday's game from Philadelphia New York made it impossible for Chicago to do better than cause a tie at the season's end of the National league pennant race. Had Chicago lost to St. Louis instead of winning, New York's tie to the flag would have been clinched last night. The New Yorkers now need one more game to insure them the league championship, and they have 10 more games to play.

Phillies Break Even.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Washington and Philadelphia, divided a doubleheader, the visitors taking the first, 6 to 2, while the second went to the locals, 2 to 0. In five and a half innings Darkness prevented further play. Johnson allowed but one hit in the second game. Plank was the only man to reach first.

Boston Wins Two.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—New York dropped a doubleheader to Boston today, the latter winning easily in each game. Hall was effective in the first, allowing but four hits and striking out nine men. In the second, Wood was almost invincible. Not a man got on base until the sixth, when Williams walked. Daniels made the only clean hit off Wood in the same inning. Wood struck out 13 men, getting Daniels and Doan three times. Every New Yorker but Gardner struck out in this game. The second game was called in the eighth because of darkness.

HAL CHASE IS STILL IDOL THOUGH YANKS ARE LOWER IN RACE THAN LAST YEAR

By BILL BAILEY

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Some fans have an idea that managing a ball club is a big bundle up on a star player. They will cite you a man after a man who was a star in a player but who fell off in his work in the field when he was asked to direct the play of the team.

That's one side of the story.

There is another. And that is the fact that a man who is a star ball player often is of great assistance to him when he becomes a manager of the team.

Y.M.C.A. Sends Cups to School Tennis Winners

The cups for the first annual tennis tournament of the high schools of the Pikes Peak region have been engraved and presented to the individuals and to the winning school. The Colorado Springs High school will hold the Dr. Flora trophy for the coming year, Frank Evans of that school winning the tournament and individual cup.

Gardner Jackson of the latter academy won the runner up cup and received that trophy. Earle Davis of the Central High school of Pueblo received the consolation cup.

SAYLOR BESTS "BAT" NELSON AT BOSTON

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Young Saylor of Indianapolis gave Battling Nelson former lightweight champion of the world, one of the worst defeats of his life in 12 rounds of boxing here tonight.

In the first three rounds the men were in a constant clinch, with both working body punches to good effect. After the third round they were broken apart from the clinches, and Saylor met every rush of the batter with swift left and right swings. Nelson landed but few clean punches, Saylor having every round and winning the decision.

VETERAN COINER OF U. S. MINT DIES SUDDENLY

DENVER, Oct. 3.—J. B. Baldwin, coinier at the Denver United States mint, died suddenly of heart failure in Williamsport Pa. last night. News of his death was received by Superintendent Downer of the mint this morning. Mr. Baldwin had been away from Denver for a month visiting with relatives at his old home in the east.

Mr. Baldwin was 50 years old and a veteran government employee. He was coinier in the United States mints at Philadelphia and New Orleans before coming to Denver in 1905.

AIRY DINING

A cool, airy dining-room imparts a zest to your appetite; a hot, stuffy dining-room destroys it, and makes mealtime an ordeal. After the duties of a sweltering summer day it is imperative that you dine in a refreshing atmosphere.

You can do this by using a General Electric Fan. Connect it to an ordinary lighting socket, turn the switch, and you can revel in the comfort of a cool circulating breeze. And at a cost too trivial for serious consideration less than one cent an hour.

The General Electric Fan represents the highest type of manufacturing skill. We have a complete line of General Electric Fans displayed in our show rooms, or we will gladly have a representative call and demonstrate their many advantages.

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

Special to The Gazette

CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 3.—The first shipment of ore to be loaded out from the C. K. & N. Mining company's property on Beacon hill since operations were started on company account, was billed to one of the Colorado City mills yesterday, and Charles Ridpath, superintendent is authority for the statement that the mine is back on the shipping list permanently.

The ore shipped was mined at the 600-foot level, from a shoot on the main vein. Three machine drills are kept in operation and the ground will be exploited by drift and crosscut, until such time as the deeper levels may be recovered. There still remains 120 feet of water in the shaft, and two levels are submerged. The mine is draining slowly through tunnel connections, and it may be possible that the exploitation planned by the El Paso management on the C. K. & N. vein from the El Paso workings may result in quicker relief.

ANCHORIA LELAND.

Twenty-five cars of low grade dump ore was moved from the dumps of the Anchuria Leland Gold Mining company on Gold hill during September and lessees operating the upper levels of the main shaft and surface lessees on the estate, billed out 15 cars of milling grade ore.

MILLING MACHINERY MOVED.

Machinery from the Wishbone mill site was removed to the Ironhill mill this morning. The Ironhill mill, under lease by the Rex Mining and Milling company to L. Cooper and associates is again in active operation.

CHICAGO AND CRIPPLE CREEK TUNNEL.

Lessees operating through the Chicago tunnel, penetrating Globe hill and the Stratton estate properties, with its portal in Poverty gulch were loading out ore today for treatment at the Portland mill at Colorado City. An immense body of low grade ore has been entered in the tunnel workings, and the trial shipment has been sent out.

COLORADO BOSS ORE.

A 30-ton shipment of smelting grade ore estimated at from two to four ounces gold to the ton was shipped from the Colorado Boss mine on Gold hill yesterday by Rose Lewis, a sub-lessee operating under the M. Rapp lease. The strike made by this operator is one of the more important of this year's discoveries.

ISABELLA MINES COMPANY.

A total tonnage of 500 tons was the September production from the Lee shaft, Isabella Mines company. The Empire shaft was inactive. The average value of the ore shipped by lessees of the company was about $20 to the ton—the full returns not having been received, the exact value cannot be stated. Contractors continue to sink the shaft and this work curtailed production.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The limited demand for stocks at the present stage of prices was shown clearly by the course of today's trading. The market developed a downward tendency sufficiently definite to indicate that for the present at least, the recovery of last week was not to be continued. The disappointing small investment buying is attributed to various disturbing and unanswered questions, chief among which is the intention of the government in regard to the enforcement of the antitrust law.

Selling of St. Paul in the first hour, when that stock approached its recent low record, was a factor which seemed to determine the market's course during the remainder of the day. Pressure against this stock was steady throughout the session and seemed to be due in no small measure to London selling. St. Paul, Amalgamated Copper and United States Steel were the three prominent stocks to end the day with losses of a point.
The weakness of United States Steel was perhaps due in part to further poor trade reports. New orders of the United States Steel corporation are placed at slightly below 300,000 tons a day.
The speculative community was taken back by the opposition to the American Tobacco plan revealed in a petition submitted to the courts by one of the constituent companies. This was reflected in the heaviness of securities of the corporation.
Bonds were steady. Total sales par value $2,150,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Promises of bright weather northwest had much to do with making the wheat market today swing to a lower level. The close showed a decline of 1/4 to 1/2¢ from last night. The end of the day left corn 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ down, oats off 1/4 to 1/2¢, and hog products either unaltered or varying 1/4¢ to 1/2¢.

Wheat speculators generally reversed their position in the last half of the day, so that a price bulge due to wet and cold weather at the harvest fields along the Canadian line gave place to a material depression of values. The selling movement had a further cause in the liberal increase exhibited by the total of the world's available supply.

Slowness of flour business and of demand for cash wheat counted against the bulls. Altogether the bearers had things much their own way as the session drew to a close, except that the final tone was steady. Extreme prices reached for December deliveries were 92¢ and 93¢, with last sales 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ off. 92 1/2¢.
Corn weakened under profit taking and as a result of a fair weather forecast, December fluctuated from 84 1/4¢ to 65¢ closing steady 84 1/4¢.
Net lower, as the bottom figures reached. Cash grades were in fair demand. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 70 1/2¢ to 71¢.

Free realizing on the part of a leading long in the oats crowd started a number of others to unload. High and low limits touched. 32¢.
Proved to be 31 1/2¢ and 47 1/2¢ with the close 1/4¢ down at 47 1/2¢.

Heavy deliveries of lard had a bearish effect on the whole market for hog products. At the last going, pork was 2 1/2¢ to 3¢ lower, lard off 2 1/2¢ to 3¢ and ribs unchanged to 1/2¢ lower.

NEGRO IN JAIL ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Dexter Speights, negro, is in the county jail, waiting a hearing in Justice Dunnington's court on a charge of assault. He started a fight, it is claimed, on a Denver & Rio Grande train the night of September 28, a few miles south of Colorado Springs. Speights, it is said, was feigning sleep, in an effort to avoid paying his fare, when Conductor Harrington threw a cup of water in his face. The negro arose fighting, and refused to leave the train or pay his fare.

Now We Have It

The one dentifrice without a fault; the one that gives perfect satisfaction, that leaves nothing to be desired. It leaves a pleasant sensation in the mouth that we have long wanted to find and have just now succeeded. A bottle of Nyl's Tooth Powder is bottle-ful of satisfaction. You can't go wrong by using it.

INFORMATION BUREAU IN DENVER EFFICIENT

According to a report which has been issued by Secretary Henderson of the Chamber of Commerce the efficiency of the Denver branch of the information bureau is shown by the fact that through Miss Iola Holdredge, in charge of the Denver branch, 5,744 persons were induced to visit the Pike's Peak region during the three summer months.

In her report to the Chamber of Commerce, Miss Holdredge states that the majority of this number was persuaded to come through personal effort on her part, and that only about one-third of the number approached the Denver bureau of their own accord. The Denver office closed last month.

The Colorado Springs bureau has been abolished until next season unless it should be decided to reopen it during the Dry Farming congress.

UNCOMPAGNE RIVER RAGES

MONTROSE, Colo., Oct. 3.—Unusually heavy rains of the last few days in this region have raised the Uncompagne river to a higher point than for 10 years. Over 100 feet of track on the Denver & Rio Grande was washed out at Olathe, near here, delaying traffic seven hours. The river formed a new channel and the roadbed of the railroad had to be diverted before traffic could be resumed. Several bridges were washed out south of here, but the damage has been repaired and trains are running on schedule time.

Fontaine a L'Etoufee Peas A New Delicacy

These tender little peas are prepared in France expressly for the table.

Their mode of preparation is especially unique, being cooked with lettuce and onions in the most approved manner of French chefs, the world's greatest cooks.

The peas are of early growth and are carefully selected. They are READY TO SERVE and will be found very delicious.

If you want your dinners to have "distinction," you will serve Fontaine a L'Etoufee Peas.

What You Get For What You Pay

Good furniture is not hard to find, but you can't get easily furniture that is "just right" for the spot in which you want to put it.

Don't gamble with furniture. Furniture worth buying should last you a lifetime. You can't shift it around and throw it away. You want to live with it. Buy where you may be sure of getting the "just right" kind.

Years of study and experience have enabled us to help a good many people who want artistic homes at moderate cost. See us first.

Also Rugs.
